Improve efficiency with user-friendly web and mobile software

Stay in control with RF Identity

Maintain and Track Your Assets

Staying in control of your assets and inspections can be a daily grind and often gets overlooked until a needed asset turns up missing or an accident occurs with an out-of-compliance item. RF Identity has created a simple to use tracking system involving field employees to assist in asset tracking, allowing key personnel to proactively manage your compliance and assets instead of reacting to issues that have already occurred.

Safety Compliance

RF Identity allows you to easily stay in compliance by adding to your current processes allowing your employees to see when items are due for inspection or maintenance, allowing your employees to help manage your assets. Reporting and alerts allow your safety officers the ability to see when assets are due, where the assets are & who has the asset. Historical reporting allows you to verify compliance in the field without the need for running down a paper trail in the office, saving you time and money.

Save Wasted Man-Hours

Focus costly man hours where your company needs them the most and creates profitability. By allowing employees access to quick reports they now can concentrate on the minimized area where the asset was last located. A simple check-in process allows your field personnel to geo-locate your assets for inventory purposes and allows you to know where your assets are at all times, giving you the ability to manage the assets vs reacting to missing items

Instant Location Reporting

Using RF Identity with geo-location services will allow you to quickly find assets within your facility, saving you time and money. Reporting and alerts gives instant information and allows you to focus on the correct zone using readers properly dispersed through the facility. Implementing an 'inventory' process in the morning and again at shifts-end allows you to verify assets are where they should be and alerts can be sent when the end-of-day inventory does not match.

Track Your Assets

Easily track costly tools, materials or valuable commodities by implementing simple processes backed up by RF Identity to eliminate costly replacement. Assets are tracked as they pass hands from employee to employee and location to location, creating valuable historical reporting. Employees receive reports showing where items are & who is in charge of items, reducing shrinkage.
